Nearly Fell Off 50-Foot Cliff Seeking T.C.A. Plane

It takes a pretty tough man to be a diver and here the chief of the Canadian navy's west coast divers proves it as he prepared to descend into 85 feet of water off Gabriola Island.

Com'd Gnr. (T) Charles Smedley, R.C.N., wiry, 36-year-old chief diver, has been lowered into depths up to 150 feet for 16 years. "That was the deepest I've ever gone," Smedley says.

But searching is the best part of his business, claims Smedley and looking for the missing T.C.A. Lodestar has given the navy's chief diver plenty of chances to follow this particular phase of his job.

"There were boulders as big as houses down there," Smedley said after surfacing. "At one time I stood on the brink of a 50-foot cliff and almost went over. Then I took a walk to a lower drop and made my way into the ravine."

Like most divers, Smedley keeps himself in tip-top physical condition. The crew of the Diving Tender No. 2 are the same. They take medicals every week and a real annual "overhaul" in every year of diving.

There are lots of volunteers for diving according to navy records and most young men appreciate the hard work it takes to become a full-rigged diver.

Had the navy divers found the missing T.C.A. Lodestar they would have started to sweat over slings to be put around the ill-fated aircraft and then assisted in raising her. But the job they were on off Gabriola was a heart-breaker. They covered an area of more than 100,000 square feet, and if the plane had been there—they'd have found it. (See other pictures page 2.)

Pickets Block Long Distance Phone Operators

NEW YORK (AP)—Groups of long distance telephone employees returning to work following settlement of the long lines phase of the United States-wide strike refused today to cross picket lines of other unions still on strike.

The workers were members of the American Union of Telephone Workers, whose 20,000 members from coast to coast were slated to begin returning to work at 6 a.m. in the various time zones across the country, but remained "pledged to honor the picket lines of any affiliated union."

AGREEMENT WITH A.T.T.

This policy was stated by the A.U.T.W. executive board, which last night approved a wage agreement calling for weekly increases generally ranging from $2 to $4. The agreement had been reached in Washington earlier by union negotiators and representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, parent organization of the Bell system.

In Washington, officials of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, which called the April 7 strike, estimated that about 250,000 of the 287,000 members of the N.F.T.W. unions who walked out still were on strike.

Most workers still out belong to regional unions which this week began negotiations with various Bell system companies following termination of N.F.T.W. efforts to reach a national settlement.

Thirty-two infants at the Gray Nunnery in suburban Notre Dame de Liesse were stricken, Dr. Chabot said.

No Sign Of Slump

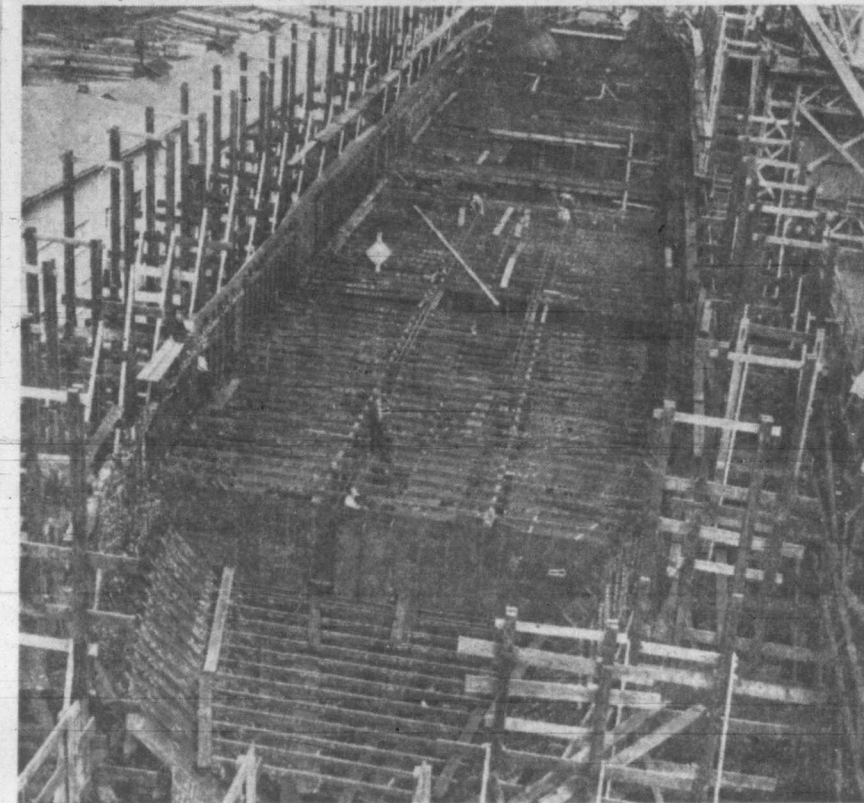

WASHINGTON (AP)—Census bureau statisticians said today that unemployment figures show no sign of a business recession in the United States. The bureau has estimated April unemployment at 2,420,000. The postwar peak was reached in March, 1946, when the figure hit 2,700,000 and then started down again.

Less Wheat Acreage Seeded This Year

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that Canadian farmers have indicated they intend to seed 25,097,900 acres to wheat this year, a decline of 802,300 from the 25,900,100 acres seeded in the 1946 season.

The spring wheat acreage, sown principally in the prairie provinces, will total 24,486,500 against 25,354,000 last year and the fall wheat acreage, mainly in Ontario, will come to 611,600 compared with 546,100.

Good progress is being made on the construction of the new Prince steamer for the Canadian National Steamships Ltd. at Yarrow's yards, Esquimalt. The above picture was shot from the stern looking forward and shows the ship framed to the main deck and most of the plating on. She will cost $3,000,000 and is the largest passenger vessel ever built in Canada. She will be launched in October and be ready to enter the Alaskan service in the summer of 1948.

Franco Regime Crushes General Strike; 6,000 Jailed, Exiled Government Says

BILBAO, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco's government appeared today to have crushed a general strike which virtually immobilized the vital steel industry in this area for eight days in the strongest demonstration by Spanish industrial workers since the civil war.

Most of the workers returned to their jobs Thursday, penalized by loss of seniority and wage reductions, and informed sources here said they expected the walk-out would be ended completely today.

These informants calculated

30,000 of an estimated 45,000 workers in steel, heavy machinery, shipbuilding, mines and construction work stayed away from their jobs Monday and Tuesday. They attributed the collapse of the demonstration to failure of industrial workers in other sections of the country to back it up with sympathy walkouts.

The civil government declared, however, the strike had reached its peak Wednesday and placed the number of idle on that day at 11,000.

The Bilbao workers first left their jobs on May Day for a one-day demonstration. The government fired those who demonstrated and required them to

Cabinet Of Greece Summoned To Consider Amnesty For Guerrillas

ATHENS (AP)—The Greek cabinet was summoned into emergency session today to consider a proposal that amnesty be granted to all guerrillas, under supervision of the United Nations.

Informed sources said a virtual crisis was impending over the issue, since there was known to be some serious objection within the government against any interference by the U.N. in the internal affairs of the country.

$36,000 Fine, Jail For British Tourist

LONDON (AP)—Percival George Arthur Harvey, wealthy 51-year-old businessman, was sentenced to three months in prison and fined £9,000 ($36,000) today for spending too much British money in a non-British currency area.

It was the stiffest fine yet imposed in Britain's all-out campaign to conserve her dwindling currency reserves. Scores of British tourists and traveling heavy fines for similar offences.

Mrs. Enid Harvey, 41, was fined £3,300 in a case tried jointly with Harvey's.

Harvey, a director of several companies, pleaded guilty to 14 summonses charging he had exchanged £4,900 in British cheques for French francs on trips to vacation resorts in the south of France.

Request Ruhr, Hamburg Ruled Emergency Area

HAMBURG (Reuter)—Demands that Hamburg and the Ruhr be immediately declared emergency areas, and that hoarded food be distributed among the population, were made today by Adolf Kummerness, chairman of Hamburg's Trades Union Council, as hundreds of thousands of men and women left their jobs in the city's first general strike since pre-Nazi days.

Reports from Frankfurt said workers in all public and private enterprises in Hanover had started a five-hour strike at 1 p.m.

Strikers slowly marched up and down streets of Hamburg carrying banners demanding more food and a crowd of 60,000 gathered near the central railway station to hear Kummerness.

There were shouts of protest when Wilhelm Doerr, chairman of the German Employees' Union in the British zone, appealed to the workers to return to their factories and offices.

The demonstrators dispersed after the meeting. Thousands of other strikers preferred to sunbathe on the banks of Alster Lake.

As a military government conference held by the regional commissioner was discussing the strike, called in protest against depleted food rations, Lord Pakenham, minister responsible for the administration of the British zone, was reported to have arrived at Duesseldorf for talks with British and German officials.

PRECAUTIONARY ACTION

Military authorities advised British troops to stay away from the centre of the city. Trade union chiefs had warned all demonstrators to be orderly and disciplined.

Employees of the German news service were exempted from the stoppage, together with those of the gas, electricity and food industries.

A mass meeting later was to decide whether the workers should continue to strike.

Warns Aggressors

Japanese To Form Coalition Cabinet

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese political leaders agreed today to form a coalition cabinet of the four principal parties, but failed to determine the premiership or political complexion of the forthcoming government.

The Communists will be left out of the government. The agreement calls for a coalition of Liberal and Democratic parties which form the present government's conservative majority in the Diet; the Social Democratic Party, which holds the plurality, and the People's Co-operative Party, a farm group.

Wednesday Closing Not Mandatory On Request Of Shops

In a letter to the City Council, City Solicitor A. J. Patton today stated that it is not mandatory upon the council to close any class of shops all day Wednesday regardless of any petitions which may be received.

The question has come up because of a petition, signed by 76 per cent of shoe merchants in the city, asking for all-day Wednesday closing of their stores and the city solicitor was instructed by the council to prepare the necessary by-law because it was understood that 1947 amendments to the Shops Regulation and Weekly Half-Holiday Act made it mandatory.

Mr. Patton has now stated that the section of the act states that the municipal council may, by by-law require any class or classes of shops be closed for the whole of the day specified in the by-law, during the whole or any part of the year.

The 75 per cent petition ruling only affects closing of shops on statutory holidays, the fixing of an early closing time, the fixing of time for closing on the weekly half-holiday and the closing of gasoline and service stations, he said.

London Getting Back To Normal As Strike Ends

LONDON (Reuter)—With settlement of the strike of 1,000 City of London Corporation employees, the big job of getting back to normal started today in city streets where refuse had been left to accumulate for the last two weeks.

The strikers, who included gravediggers, roadsweepers, dustmen, and stokers and engineering operators at the Tower Bridge over the River Thames, returned to work unconditionally, after a back-to-work vote Thursday night. George Turner, Billingsgate Fish Market policeman, who is not a union member and whose promotion to sergeant was the cause of the dispute, retains his stripes.

Talks will be started next week between Ministry of Labor officials, the city corporation and the men's leaders.

Biggest job of clearing up is at the Billingsgate Market, where, according to one of the cleaners, "drains are clogged with refuse swept down by rain."

B.C. Senator Rebuffs Attempt To Cut Power Over Jap Movement

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate's banking committee today rebuffed an attempt to cancel an order giving the government another year's power over movement and labor of Japanese-Canadians after hearing Senator J. W. deB. Farris, Lib., British Columbia, warn bluntly that its passage would bring the whole Japanese problem to an "acute" head.

By a vote of 11 to 4 the committee moved through the most contentious clause in its study of the omnibus controls bill by defeating a motion of Senator Thomas A. Crerar, Lib., Manitoba, designed to wipe out an order which allows the Labor Minister to direct Japanese-Canadians where to live and to work and how much to be paid for another year.

TENSION DEVELOPS

There was some tension in the atmosphere after Senator Crerar had objected to the order on the grounds that "its only basis for justification is expediency," that "this is precisely the way suppression of minorities started in other countries," and that "we can drift sort of easily into a state of mind where good, decent people get habituated to this sort of thing because their natural instincts of decency are weakened."

Senator Farris said Prime Minister King had given an unequivocal promise in the 1945 election on the Japanese question. The people had sent men to parliament from the coast province on that promise.

"The Senate," he said, "had no right to intervene in issues on which the people have voted directly."

"Don't you think this is a dangerous precedent?" asked Senator W. A. Buchanan, Lib., Alberta.

"The danger," said Senator Farris, "started long ago when, contrary to the wishes of the great majority of people in B.C., these people were brought in. I don't think the rest of Canada should be so 'hifalutin' in theories which apply to B.C. and not to the rest of Canada."

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, admitting he was "terribly worried" about the question, asked that the government be given a year to "clean this thing up." He asked that it find a solution because "none of us like discrimination."

Senator Cairine Wilson, Lib., Ontario, said she found it hard to accept the broad powers given the Labor Minister.

MITCHELL'S PLANS

Appearing before the committee, Labor Minister Mitchell told her "there will be no compulsion other than moving them from the protected areas of B.C." Since the "desperate days" of the war when that movement took place, Canada had spent $14,000,000 in moving the Japanese across the Dominion despite opposition from "most of the Premiers." "When they're scattered they are only a drop in the bucket," he said, adding "in the long run the people of Canada will thank us for what we've done."

2 Political Groups May Merge in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Chiefs of the Conservatives and Liberal Nationalists issued a joint statement today appealing for a merger of the two parties in an effort to overthrow Britain's Socialist government in the elections in 1950.

The Conservatives hold 191 seats in the present House of Commons, the Liberal Nationals 13, and the Labor Party 394. The membership of the House totals 640.

The merger, proposed by Lord Woolton, chairman of the Conservative Party, and Lord Teviot, the Liberal National chairman, would apply to England and Wales only, with Scottish organizations invited to enter a similar coalition.

Co-operation Plea For Social Welfare As Meeting Ends

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The Canadian Welfare Council, which started its convention here discussing relations between public and private agencies, wound up on a Dominion-provincial co-operation note Thursday night.

Federal Health Minister Martin told the 350 delegates it now was up to the provincial and federal governments to forget their differences and get on common ground in the interest of a national welfare program.

"Let us not indulge in name-calling," he said. He believed the objectives and proposals for health and welfare programs had been lost sight of in the discussions of fiscal transactions and tax agreement during the federal-provincial negotiations.

Earlier R. F. G. Davis, executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council, had deplored failure of the federal and provincial governments to agree on a general program.

"Canada is steadily inching along toward the goal of a comprehensive social welfare program," he said, "but what we need is an over-all plan which will fit together our present piecemeal services into a clearly articulated scheme."

The problem of the "mail order babies," the hundreds of European children who might be adopted "sight unseen" by well-meaning Canadian families, was brought up at an earlier session by child welfare workers.

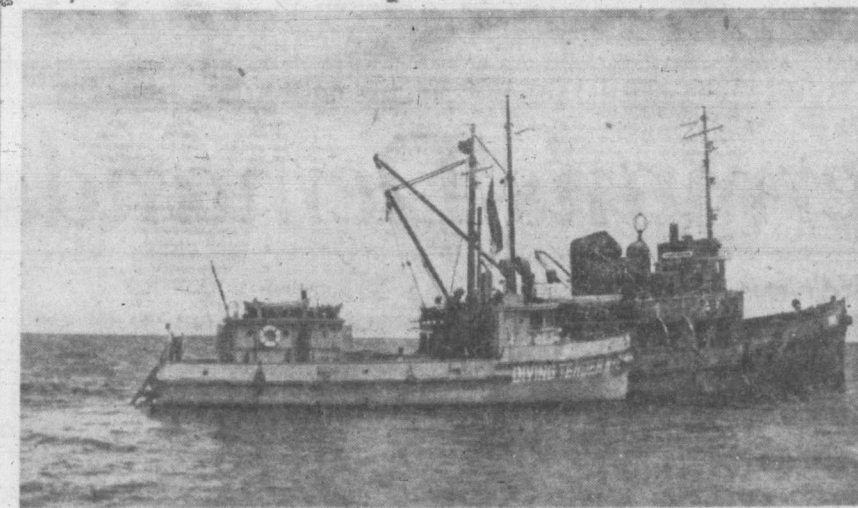

Immigration of European children is arousing concern of the Toronto, director of the division, said Mrs. George Kirkpatrick of Toronto, director of the division. She said adequate arrangements for permanent care of these children should be made before they were brought to Canada. Otherwise their care would eventually fall on the shoulders of welfare agencies.

Britain Welcomes U.S. Import Plan

LONDON (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today Britain welcomed the proposal by State Under-Secretary Dean Acheson that the United States increase imports to bolster international trade.

Acheson said in a foreign policy address in Cleveland, Ohio, Thursday that there could be no lasting peace or prosperity until the world recovered, and proposed the United States take a large volume of imports to increase the international trade and follow a policy of aiding foreign purchases through further emergency financing.

To Increase Rates On New Connections For Water Services

City Council will be asked to approve an increase in charges for making new water service connections which will almost double present rates, Ald. F. N. Cabellu, chairman of the water board, said today.

He explained that installation costs have risen so much in the past 20 years, during which present rates have been effective, that the proposed new rate will barely meet actual costs. "We estimated carefully over the past year what it has actually cost to make such installations before arriving at the new rate," Ald. Cabellu explained.

Charges for making connections for a half-inch service will be increased from $15 to $27.50 if the new rates are approved Monday, and charges for larger sizes will increase proportionately.

In outside municipalities at present new installations cost 50 per cent more than in the city, and under the new schedule they will cost 25 per cent more than in the city, Ald. Cabellu said.

The water board has also received a draft agreement from the Department of National Defence which would permit residents of the Albert Head and Metchosin districts to make water connections with the government-owned pipe line which serves Williams Head, Ald. Cabellu said. With one minor change the city has approved the agreement and sent it back to federal authorities for completion. He stressed that the water board is doing everything possible to speed completion of the agreement which has been pending for almost two years.

M.P.'s From Farming Districts Plead Case On Taxes In Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—Representatives of farming communities held the spotlight in the Commons Thursday while they placed the troubles of their constituents before the government with appeals for tax reductions and for improvements in existing agricultural policies.

The appeals came during continued budget speech debate which also brought from business and labor representatives further criticism and some praise for the recently-announced tax changes.

For the Ontario farmers and dairy producers generally, R. E. Drope, P.C., Northumberland, Ont., urged establishment of better floor prices to assure farmers a reasonable return.

Cal. Miller, P.C., Portage la Prairie, Joseph Burton, C.C.F., Humboldt, Sask., urged greater income tax relief for prairie farmers.

Harry Jackman, P.C., Toronto-Rosedale, said that since the government was budgeting for a surplus this year it could have been "more generous" and made other taxation reductions in addition to those in income tax rates.

Mr. Jackman called on the government to end its wartime "spending spree" and argued that the only way to get economy was to decide how much could be spent safely.

Gordon Isnor, Lib., Halifax, defended the government's policy and said Finance Minister Abbott had won praise across the country for the income tax reductions. However, he felt the 25 per cent luxury tax could well have been eliminated.

John Blackmore, S.C., Lethbridge, Alta., dealt with the sugar beet industry and said that if the government did not take steps to encourage this production the country was threatened with the loss of 50,000,000 pounds of sugar this year. Farmers were declining to sign sugar beet contracts because they feared a shortage of labor.

The Portage la Prairie member, Cal. Miller, urged the federal

Church-Going In Victoria As Good As Any Other City

While Toronto and Winnipeg are claiming top honors for being the best church-going cities in Canada, Victoria emerged today to claim its church attendance was as good, if not better, than any other city in the Dominion.

That was the opinion of Victoria clergymen when questioned about the claim of Rev. Dr. E. M. Howese, D.D., minister of Winnipeg's Westminster United Church that the prairie centre was probably the best-going city in the Dominion.

Bishop Harold E. Sexton said as far as the Anglican Church was concerned attendance was good and on par with any other city in the Dominion.

"It is always improving," he added. "I think Victoria's record is as good as either Winnipeg or Toronto."

Claiming a better church attendance than some of the larger churches in Toronto, Rev. J. Lewis W. McLean, M.A., of St. Andrew's Church, and past moderator of the Presbyterian Church, said his church could also claim to have the largest tourist worshippers' attendance in the Dominion.

Said Mr. McLean: "I've never been to Winnipeg, but I think church-going is just as good here. I've been to Toronto, and noticed that I had a larger congregation than some of their larger churches."

In Ottawa some agreed the Winnipeg preacher might be right, but as W. H. Shaver, McLeod Street United Church put it: "We must remember there is a much larger protestant population in Winnipeg than in Ottawa."

He also pointed out that two downtown Winnipeg United churches had closed, another was amalgamated and another closing was proposed, while Ottawa had seven such churches in a radius of 11 city blocks still carrying on.

Honest clerics tugged at their consciences in Vancouver today but could not put Vancouver in the picture with Toronto and Winnipeg as the "best church-going cities in Canada."

Anglican and United Church ministers conceded the claims of good church-going Winnipeg but defended Vancouver's comparatively backward position.

Rev. Andrew Roddan of First United said: "Winnipeg is more insular; here we have the American influence," besides we have the sea, the open road, the long summer."

Sir Francis Heathcote, Bishop of New Westminster, who thought Toronto was still the best city for church attendance, blamed the lackadaisical habits of church-goers here on "unsettled newcomers" who do not go to church in the evenings."

Signs Of Change
Steadily Increase
In New Delhi

NEW DELHI (Reuter)—There are many signs of the changing times in this "Imperial city," with the end of British rule in India fixed for June, 1948.

And few are more marked than those to be seen at the fabulous palace, the Viceroy's House, long the holy of holies to society in India.

There is a sartorial democracy about functions there nowadays—there are stiff shirts and silk shirts, lounge suits and tails, patent shoes and sandals, top hats and toupees.

When the 24-year-old Congress ban on participation in Viceregal parties was lifted for Lord Mountbatten's second big party recently, the dhoti (loin-cloth) brigade invaded the Moghul Gardens in full force.

Even though the Congress party joined the Interim Government, its social boycott of the Viceroy's House continued until the last days of Lord Wavell as Viceroy. Members of the Interim

Search Made In Saskatchewan
For Last Of Whooping Cranes

REGINA (CP)—The whooping crane—North America's tallest, loudest and rarest bird—is the object of a search in Saskatchewan today by an ornithologist who has followed the birds from their wintering grounds in Texas and Louisiana.

R. P. Allen of Florida Keys, Fla., left here to visit areas northwest of Regina where the birds, of which only 27 are said to be in existence, were reported seen by farmers.

In June, Mr. Allen, a representative of the National Wild Life Society of New York, will be joined at Fort McMurray, Alta., by Bob Smith of Washington, D.C., of the Fish and Wild Life Service of the United States. The men then will start a needle-in-the-haystack search for nests of the four-foot birds, using an amphibious Grumman Widgeon aircraft.

Government were absent from the reception given by Lord and Lady Wavell at the time of their daughter's wedding. Some of the Congress executive councillors, however, attended the church ceremony.

Lord Mountbatten has succeeded in pulling down a social barrier between the Viceroy's House and the Congress party where four of his predecessors failed.

Another and not insignificant sign of the changing times is the listing in the current telephone directory, Delhi district, for the first time: "40385 . . . Gandhi, Mahatma . . . Walmik Temple."

Lottery Plan To Aid
Student Quashed

TORONTO (CP)—Efforts to conduct a lucky draw lottery "to raise funds to take a course in journalism" brought the arrest Thursday night of Allen Spiletz, 28, of Toronto on a charge of running a lottery.

Police found 139 books of tickets on the lottery, run under the "Western Newspaper Club" in Spiletz's home. More than 300 books of tickets—to be sold at 30 cents apiece, where shipped to Winnipeg, police added, where advertisements had been placed in publications.

The draw was to have been held next July and was for five new automobiles which police said Spiletz had made no deal to buy. He was released on bail.

BEGINNING OF THE END?

THE APPARENT SUCCESS OF GEN. Francisco Franco in crushing the strongest demonstration by Spain's industrial workers since the country's civil war may assume secondary importance to the fact that a substantial element in that land was sufficiently well organized to make the demonstration. Despite the repressive measures of fascism, workers in an industry vital to a system of government which holds power by force were able to make some show of strength. It is not inconceivable that the disturbance in the steel industry will furnish a pattern for other groups whose position is intolerable under the existing regime.

The attitude of freedom-loving peoples toward Franco needs no recapitulation here. They will shed no tears when the paunchy dictator is eventually eliminated. On the other hand, they are restrained from active participation in the affairs of Spain by an unwillingness to transgress accepted principles of non-intervention in the affairs of a sovereign state. Nor are they ready to provoke another bloodbath through fostering a revolt. It is the hope of those who cherish democratic tradition that the masses in Spain may find the means to achieve their own liberation from the hands of the tyrant. The difficulties of such an achievement are by no means minimized by the outside world. Given the support of the army, which claims so high a percentage of the country's income, Franco cannot be easily dislodged. Yet when a sufficient proportion of his people recognize the ultimate destiny of dictatorship—as disclosed by the fate of Hitler and Mussolini—the case for revival of the republic will not be hopeless.

It is not for us, at this juncture, to speculate too widely on the forces which prompted the demonstration by the steel workers. Whatever the origin of the movement, it expressed courageous opposition to a regime which is detested by those who hold dear the dignity of man. It reflects, moreover, the growing unrest under dictatorship which can be estimated by the sharp regulations promulgated, a few days ago against opposition, by the government in that land. It may account for the confusing efforts at monarchical restoration reported from Spain, and it may symbolize the beginning of the end for an opportunist who is living, politically at least, on borrowed time.

SHOE ON THE OTHER FOOT

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF HAMBURG and Hanover workers who staged a strike today to support their demands that existing food stores be made available to them will receive only limited sympathy from the food-rationed Britons who are helping to feed them, and an equally cursory consideration from the rest of the world which is still suffering from the troubles these same people under Hitler inflicted upon us. It might also be noted in passing, that the Hamburg workers, in striking, were registering a democratic form of protest which they were not permitted under their Fuehrer.

The right of a hungry man to protest will not be denied, but the sympathy which may arise from such a spectacle will be conditioned by a knowledge of the reasons why the man is hungry. Millions are dead today as a result, not merely of having insufficient food but of having no food at all. But there were no workers' strikes in Germany in protest against the starving of millions of innocent people in concentration camps; there were no mass demonstrations in Hamburg and Hanover against gas chambers and cremation plants.

The more civilized nations of the world cannot forget these things as they ponder the spectacle of the striking Hamburg and Hanover workers. And although they will continue their help to the people of Germany, it would be more than human if they failed to recall some reference to "poetic justice" in this regard.

THE INCREASE IS GENERAL

WITH PASSAGE OF THE SAANICH mill rate Wednesday night, Greater Victoria municipalities have completed plans for financing during the year. In each case, the taxes have been raised. Esquimalt has increased its rate by two mills, the city by three and a half, Oak Bay by eight and a half, with readjustment of assessments, and Saanich by six in the higher of two divisions necessitated by difference in school costs within the district. The trend in this community is in line with that found throughout the Dominion.

The courses that have been followed by the municipalities were inevitable. Costs are higher for labor and material. Moreover, work which could not be done while war made its exacting demands and while postwar scarcities existed, can now be undertaken to a greater extent. Civic and municipal governments must take up the slack, try to catch up on the backlog of neglected projects, and render the services which are properly their responsibilities.

The higher taxation in Greater Victoria does not, in the main, do much to equalize mill rates of the separate entities within the district. It does, however, indicate to the ratepayers the fact that they can secure services only as they pay for them. In other words, if the surrounding municipalities wish to enjoy the higher standards of public improvements and services available in the city itself, they must meet annual levies higher than now prevail.

There is always a danger, when taxes increase, that a strong reaction will spring up to thwart development which can only be met by higher rates. It is naturally a cause of concern, particularly to those of fixed income from investments, when the charges go up. At the same time, citizens in general must realize that their community cannot progress without the means to finance necessary undertakings. It is a part of proper citizenship that they should relate the higher levies to the long-term benefits accruing to the city or municipality. Too rigid economy exerts a retarding influence on growth. If a city is to be vital, it must have substantial funds continuously pumped into its bloodstream.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

THE IMPORTANCE OF CANADA'S position in the field of atomic development imposes on her citizens the necessity for a national recognition of the responsibility which must accompany such a position, and a deep sense of participation in fashioning the destiny of mankind. For the possibilities of atomic development for human good are equally as breath-taking as its possibilities for destruction. Because of our situation as a source of raw material and our technical status, described by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton as "second only to that of the United States," this Dominion is fated to be a vital factor in the future of this tremendous force. We must live up to our moral responsibilities as well as to our scientific capabilities.

As chairman of the Atomic Energy Control Board of this country, Gen. McNaughton yesterday announced grants to three Canadian universities—McGill, University of Saskatchewan and University of British Columbia—for the purchase of equipment for atomic research. The former head of the National Research Council and former leader of the Canadian Army Forces in Europe, has brought to his new work a dual sense arising from this background. He stressed yesterday that Canadian research will be directed to "the acquisition of fundamental knowledge in nuclear physics and towards the peacetime applications of atomic energy." But he noted, too, that in view of wartime applications of atomic energy, Canada would still retain a measure of supervision over the production and distribution of substances used in the manufacture of atomic energy materials.

We hold in our hands today a substance and a technique that can make or break the world. It is not held in our hands alone, and inevitably, in the course of time, it must pass into still other hands; but our part in the future developments will be great, and we must be sure that we, as a nation, are ready to pull our weight for humanity as well as for science.

URGENT NEED

PRIME MINISTER CLEMENT ATTLEE has taken occasion in the House of Commons to thank the peoples of the Commonwealth who responded to the appeal on behalf of British farmers who suffered seriously in the recent floods—a humanitarian cause which still merits the generous support of all who can spare something from their own abundance.

The Agricultural Disaster Fund was inaugurated by the National Farmers' Union to help those who were overwhelmed by the storms and the subsequent floods. When it is recalled that nearly 1,500,000 sheep and lambs, 30,000 head of cattle, 100,000 acres of winter wheat, more than 100,000 tons of potatoes and $2,000,000 worth of pigs and poultry were destroyed by the catastrophe, there can be little doubt about the urgent need of these already hard-pressed people. Headquarters for the fund are located at 45 Bedford Square, London, W.C. 1, England.

NORTHWARD HO!

FEW CITY RESIDENTS WILL HAVE escaped a slight feeling of envy on reading that the R.C.M.P. vessel St. Roch is being prepared for another voyage into the far north. The little ship already is internationally famous for having been the first in history to make the west-to-east crossing of the Northwest Passage, and her present overhauling at Esquimalt reawakens all the thoughts of Arctic adventure and achievement which properly accompany such a voyage.

Inspector Henry Larsen, who has commanded the ship on numerous missions, including the historic trip along Canada's northern coast three years ago, will again be in charge of the patrol. The ship has on several occasions spent the winter fast in the northern ice—during her Northwest Passage saga she was held not far from Fort Ross, which is inside the Arctic Circle—and in the present instance the crew does not expect to see city lights again until late in 1948.

There may be few among the admirers of these hardy souls who would venture to accompany them on their journey into one of the last frontier areas of the globe, but all will join in wishing them success and a safe return in their stout ship.

Australian Story

CLOAKED IN THE secrecy of security regulations, young Australians poured through Victoria during the war years, en route to Canada's Commonwealth Air Training centres and later to the aerial battle lines of Europe. To many in this Dominion they became close friends. To all, they represented a mighty element in the combined air power which paved the way for victory two years ago.

The stories of their exploits and those of men who went before them are compressed into a small volume, "R.A.A.F. Over Europe," recently published in their homeland. To those in this land who knew them well, the book presents stirring reading. Some of its highlights, in review form, are reproduced below from the Melbourne Age.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS after Britain declared war there were Australians in the air over Germany flying in the squadrons of the Royal Air Force in the opening battles. From then on, until the final triumphant mission in 1945, Australian airmen, individually or as squadrons, took part in every major battle, every campaign in the air war of Europe. They fought valorously into the mighty framework of the Royal Air Force and won many seats among the immortals.

They flew 33,000,000 miles in Europe in the course of nearly 200,000 flying hours—the equivalent of almost 23 years' continuous flying. Some 6000 lost their lives, more than 2,000 were reported missing, and about 1,500 became prisoners of war.

By one of those coincidences of history Australia had the nucleus of her first overseas squadron already in England when war broke out. Seven officers and fourteen airmen of the R.A.A.F. had arrived in July, 1939, to ferry back to Australia nine Short Sunderland flying-boats purchased from Britain for the defence of the Commonwealth. They stayed to form No. 10 Flying-boat Squadron—the first Dominion air unit to go into battle at the side of Britain.

WHEN THE GERMANS surrendered Australia had 18 squadrons in action, flying Sunderlands, Lancasters, Halifaxes, Beaufighters and Wellingtons. To the personnel in these squadrons must be added many hundreds of airmen scattered through the ranks of the Royal Air Force.

In the years between, Australian airmen, colloquially, "had a finger in every pie." They "mixed it" with the Hun during the "phony" war in France (which was far from "phony" for the fliers), they ranged the seas with Coastal Command, they fought in the Battle for Britain, in the offensive sweeps over the European fortress, and in minelaying sorties.

They were out with the R.A.F. on every sortie made during the continuous, deadly heavy bomber offensive, and won an imperishable name for their courage and skill in special operations.

A PART FROM the sprinkling of regular R.A.A.F. officers serving with the R.A.F. when war broke out, the majority of Australian airmen who served in the European theatre were products of the Empire Air Training Scheme. This scheme had, to feed a battle-line in England that was always hungry for men, for though air-power expanded rapidly, casualties were high and frequent.

The book tells again the story of the greatest single airblow of the war—the breaching of the Moehne and Eder dams, which loosed 134,000 tons of water on German industry in the Ruhr Valley. Thirteen Australians took part in that raid, including the redoubtable Martin and Shannon, who achieved signal distinction for Australia by the part they played in many "special duty" operations with the R.A.F.

There were two Victoria Crosses awarded to Australian airmen in the European theatre. The first went to Wing-Commander H. I. Edwards, of West Australia, for brilliant leadership and gallantry in a low-level attack on Bremen in July, 1941. The other was awarded posthumously to Pilot-Officer R. H. Middleton, of New South Wales.

MIDDLETON'S STORY has been told. It is told again in the book, and it should be told often, for it enshrines all that is finest and bravest in any cavalcade of youth at war.

Middleton was captain of a Stirling bomber raiding Italy from an English base. He was hard-pressed for fuel after a difficult Alpine crossing when he reached his target—Turin. He pressed home his attack from 2,000 feet, coming under heavy fire. Part of his port mainplane was blown away, and a shell burst in the cockpit. A shell splinter struck Middleton's face, destroying his right eye. He was also wounded in the body and legs.

His second pilot and wireless operator were also wounded. Middleton collapsed, and the aircraft dove to 800 feet before the second pilot got it under control and released the bombs. Flak was still hitting the aircraft when Middleton came to. He could speak only with great difficulty and pain, but he took over and ordered the second pilot aft for first aid.

He set course for England. Fuel was too short to get back to base, but rather than abandon the aircraft over enemy territory and send his crew into captivity, he decided to try and reach the English coast so that his crew could bale out onto friendly soil. Because of his wounds and his ebbing strength he knew he had no chance of ever getting out of the cockpit.

He nursed the crippled bomber to the English coast, ordered the crew to jump, and perished with two who refused to leave when the aircraft crashed in the sea.

'Mr. Gromyko Looks No More Genial'

By HARRY P. HODGES, Editor of the Times, From Lake Success, New York.

BECAUSE I put in three weeks at the San Francisco conference two years ago, and a couple of days in 1946 at the Security Council's meetings at Hunter College in the Bronx, I was naturally interested to see the General Assembly in session 24 months after the Charter of the United Nations had begun to assume some semblance of practical form.

The representatives of the 55 states here are sitting in two capacities—as the General Assembly and also the political committee of the United Nations General Assembly. But the personnel is precisely the same. In other words, so as not to seem to assume the superior authority vested in the assembly by the document which emerged from the deliberations at the City by the Golden Gate in 1945, the whole body simply went into a "committee of the whole," similar to our traditional parliamentary procedure. Readers of the Times, of course, are familiar with the antecedents of this special gathering which convened last month to establish a commission of inquiry charged to get at the facts inherent in what is now referred to in short form as the Palestine problem.

Mr. Gromyko looks no more genial than when I saw him in action at Hunter College last year. He complained that the committee had begun its deliberations at the wrong end, that it should have done practically everything differently, but since the question of the composition of the committee had taken precedence in procedure, he maintained his stand that the "Big Five," the permanent members of the security council, should be included on the inquiry body.

INDIA ANSWERS GROMYKO

India's chief delegate tore this argument to shreds and figuratively removed all the "Big Five" from consideration by a somewhat fulsome but eloquent speech, with some sound logic as its basis. And Mr. Gromyko took three minutes to tell the Assembly that the subject under discussion in all its aspects was an important one. Repetition was his long suit.

Canada is specially interested in the current deliberations, not only by reason of their purpose, but also intimately, because the permanent chairman of this Political Committee of the United Nations Assembly is Hon. L. B. ("Mike") Pearson, former Canadian Ambassador to the United States and now Under Secretary of State for External Affairs at Ottawa. To say that he is doing a grand job here is to undervalue the versatility, the diplomatic tact, and the high good humor of this brilliant son of the Dominion.

New Device For Photographers

U.K. Information Office

Professional photographers—and serious amateurs too—will be especially interested in the new "Megafash," on view at the British Industries Fair, which does the work of 10,000 of the traditional type of flash bulb. This bulb, which is manufactured by a London firm, is an electronic flash unit employing a specially designed gas-filled bulb which gives a minimum of 10,000 flashes as against a solitary flash of the standard type. The peak light-output is enormous, being in the region of 20,000,000 lumens. Its immense value to photographers, who until now have had to carry one flash-bulb for every exposure on "difficult light" subjects is obvious. The principle on which the Megafash works is a development of that used by Britain in aerial photography cameras during the war—a short duration flash of intense light secured by discharging an electric current of high voltage through a rarefied gas. The whole mechanism is easy to carry, weighing only about 10 lbs. and measuring 10"x6½"x3½"—roughly the size of a woman's handbag.

Letters To The Editor

WANTED IN BRITAIN

As a British war-bride-out from Scotland, less than a year, I was interested in reading through the list of articles which are being sent to the Old Country by the Mayor's Fund.

I feel that Mrs. Dowdall who is responsible for making up the parcels may not be aware that the following articles she is sending are not required as there are no shortages whatever of powdered milk, powdered eggs, and sandwich spreads. There has always been plenty of these. What would be very much appreciated is canned fruit, raisins and currants and any kind of soap, all of which are in very short supply.

I am writing to you, as I think the Mayor should know this, so that not one dollar contributed by the kind and generous people of Victoria need be wasted.

ELSIE G. CARROLL.

THE AIRPARK PROJECT

The "Times" of May 1 carried a report of a statement issued by Mr. W. A. Scott, to the effect that opponents to his airport scheme had circulated rumors regarding its commercial aspect. As the representative of the majority of these opponents may I be accorded space to refute this irresponsible misstatement?

Those who were present at the meeting of Saanich council, held on February 20, will recall that when Mr. S. was questioned on his ability to find money with which to finance his project, he introduced a Mr. Westinghouse. This gentleman confirmed that, in return for a concession to operate a commercial air service from the airport, he would assist in financing the scheme. Mr. Scott's current suggestion, that the concession is to handle repair work, was not mentioned at the meeting. Mr. Westinghouse left no doubt in the minds of those present that his interest in the project centred upon this concession to operate his own commercial air service. In his final brief to Saanich council, dated March 3, Mr. Scott omits any reference to the Westinghouse concession but opens the brief with an imposing list of names of people prominent in public life in this country who are said to support the aims and objects of his association. The name of the Hon. R. W. Mayhew, M.P., figures in this list.

Mr. Scott's recent statement discloses that he has given some form of pledge to Mr. Mayhew concerning commercial operations but he offers no explanation as to why such a pledge was necessary at this time. It is known that Mr. Mayhew made extensive personal enquiry into the airport question on his recent visit to Victoria and the public can only assume that, as a result of his enquiry, he made the pledge a condition of his continued support of the airport group. In this he would be conforming to the widely held view that a war memorial with any form of commercial background is not a desirable combination.

Chairman.

DO IT YOURSELF

Edmonton Journal
A new vending machine measures out a dime's worth of popcorn, and pops, butter and packages it in 90 seconds. But you have to wipe your own chin.

BACK CHAT

Public Opinion
If you read the Manchester Guardian (about four years ago) you may have seen the story of the very dignified man who was taking home a pair of his wife's shoes which had been repaired. Owing to the scarcity of paper, there was nothing wrapped around them, so he carried them loose. A man opposite him on the bus regarded him steadily for a while and then said, as he got out, "Not going to let her gad about, guv'nor!"

AWAY WITH BAGS

Ottawa Citizen
Why is the tea here undrinkable? There are half a dozen reasons, which could be elaborated in as many columns of this newspaper, and perhaps one day they will have to be. For the moment there is room to touch on only one: The general use of tea-bags, in which tea is not so much made as murdered.
Does this seem exaggerated? Then let an Ottawa restaurant-keeper be chosen by lot, stuffed into a tea-bag himself, and dipped into hot water before the eyes of his assembled colleagues. The enormity of their effort would be brought home to them in a moment!

HUMANITIES OVERLOOKED

The Times of London
It is not that our present age is dark, but the demands implicit in a reasonable standard of national life are so exacting that spiritual things tend to be overlooked. There is only too much likelihood today, from the way studies are arranged in the schools and universities, that the scientist will grow up ignorant of the humanities, and the student of the arts ignorant of science. When this happens, both are losers, as is the nation itself which looks to them for guidance.
It will not be easy in times of rapid social changes and economic difficulty to maintain the cultural standards which have informed this nation in the past. Here lies the major responsibility of the great public and grammar schools of this country, nurseries now of science as much as of the humanities, and upon their success in welding old to new the spiritual future of our people can be seen to hang.

FLOATING TOO

Australian News Letter
A ship which recently arrived in Australian waters from Mombasa, principal port on the East Coast of Africa, was a modern Noah's Ark, for it carried 1,034 specimens of animals, birds and reptiles, ranging from 2-in. wax-bill finches to an African elephant, for the world-famed Taronga Park Zoo, Sydney.

The most interesting specimen on board was a small chimpanzee, which, on the long voyage to Australia, delighted in sitting in the ship's lounge and drinking beer straight from the bottle with all the insouciance of a seasoned tippler.

But he achieved even greater notoriety on the voyage, for while an elderly male passenger was having a quiet afternoon nap the chimpanzee sneaked into the man's cabin and robbed him of his bedclothes.

Among the other specimens for Taronga Park were three baby black-maned lions.

OK The KO

Norway Digest
Following a recent unanimous decision by the Norwegian Boxing Association, Norwegian boxers will be barred from the ring for a period of from 30 to 60 days after having been on the receiving end of a knockout or a technical KO. punch. Medical Committee Chairman Dr. Einar Boug further called for a ring book for each contestant in which the match physician will be required to note his remarks and observations following each knockout. In the future, no Norwegian will be allowed to box outside his weight-class.

All three propositions were accepted unanimously by the association though Norway's ring fans generally regard the 30-60 day quarantine following a KO, as rather drastic regulation. It is agreed, however, that careful observation and rest following a trip to the canvas is good insurance against possible serious injury. Norwegian boxing, a straight amateur sport, is to be kept free from the specter of the "punch-drunk" training gym fixture.

1. Apply FITCH'S directly from bottle onto the hair and scalp before any water is added. Massage well with hands, making sure shampoo reaches each part of scalp.

The DOCTOR Says:

COLIC PAIN IS A WARNING
By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.
Attacks of colic pain are the most characteristic complaint of patients with inflammation and stones in the gall bladder. While digestive disturbances may be associated with gall bladder disease, they can be caused by other conditions.

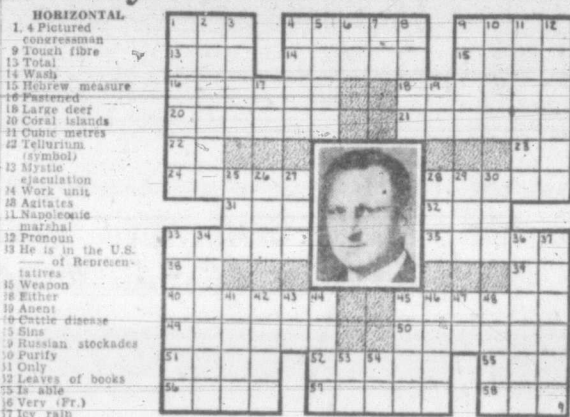

Chronic inflammation of the gall bladder, with or without stones, is more common in women. When the disease occurs in men, they are not able to stand the pain as long as women. The average duration of symptoms in men before operation is two years, while women wait nearly seven years before asking for operation.

Gall stones may be silent. Their discovery during the course of a general examination brings up the problem as to whether or not the gall bladder should be removed. Mild digestive symptoms common in middle-aged patients are not sufficient indication for surgical operation in the opinion of most surgeons, but real colic is.

Typical gall bladder colic pain begins rather suddenly in the pit of the stomach or liver region and goes through to the back and often to the right shoulder. Nausea and vomiting are present in the beginning. Few disorders in man cause greater distress. Repeated injections of morphine may be required for relief.

DISEASE SYMPTOMS
Pain may stop as suddenly as it began in a few minutes or hours, but usually there is soreness for days. During the interval between attacks, there may be complete relief from all symptoms. Milder symptoms of gall bladder disease include soreness under the ribs on the right side made worse by jolting or a full meal. Relief of pain in gall bladder disease does not result from diet.

Uncle Ray
WEALTH OF FLOWERING PLANTS FOUND IN WEST INDIES
Between Florida and the northern part of South America is a chain of islands known as the West Indies. These islands stretch from points south of Florida eastward and southward. The largest is Cuba.

The second largest island in that group sometimes goes by the name of Hispaniola, and contains two countries—Santo Domingo and Haiti.

Most of the land in the West Indies belongs to the three republics—Cuba, Haiti and Santo Domingo. Puerto Rico is under control of the United States, and various other islands belong to Great Britain, Holland and France.

Spain used to own most of the West Indies Islands, many of which were discovered and explored by Columbus. The Spanish admiral was charmed by the climate of Cuba and nearby islands.

The climate of the West Indies is, indeed, pleasant for the most part. Thanks to breezes from the sea, the weather is less hot than we might expect in that part of the world. Here and there a little frost comes in the winter, but the people never have any snow to tramp through.

There are high hills and low mountains on some of the islands, and these supply cooler weather for those who wish to escape the heat during the summer months.

With warm weather and plenty of rain, we might expect the West Indies to be blessed with a rich plant life, and that is the case. More than 6,000 kinds of flowering plants are native to the islands.

Fruit trees of scores of kinds grow in the West Indies. One kind is the sapodilla plum, or "bully tree." The weed of this tree is used for building boats, and the fruit is popular as a table dessert.

Other fruits of the West Indies include custard apples, pawpaws, yellow mammies, red mammies, soursops, sweetsops, and star apples.

Wild animals such as may be shot by hunters are scarce in the West Indies. Some men go out to hunt wild pigs, also opossums, raccoons and armadillos. Other wild animals on the islands, include lizards and large snakes. Among the birds are parrots, trogons, and sugar birds.

Admits Offer Made To Assist In Cost Of Airpark Scheme

A statement that Ward Three Saanich Ratepayers' Association had no commercial plans for the 57½ acres that is the proposed site of the Greater Victoria Memorial Airpark, was made yesterday by N. Cowper-Bell, chairman of the ratepayers, in reply to remarks made by chairman of the airpark association, W. A. Scott.

R. L. Westinghouse, the ratepayers' chief said, had met the Saanich Council with a proposal to assist in the financing of the airpark scheme provided a concession was made to him personally to operate a commercial air service from the site.

Mr. Cowper-Bell said that Mr. Westinghouse left no doubt in the minds of the council that his interest centred on the concession to operate his own commercial air service from the site.

Large Audience Attends High School Concert

Drama groups from Central Junior High School and members of the "Victoria Schools" Band staged a successful concert Thursday before a large audience of friends and parents in Victoria High School auditorium.

The concert opened with a group of band selections under the direction of the conductor, A. Prescott. A mass choir of Grades 7 and 8 boys were heard in a group of three songs. Rita Price and Joyce Forest took the solo parts in a group of five songs by the girls' choir. The audience was delighted with Roy Hogan who took the solo part as captain during the selection from "H.M.S. Pinafore." Other soloists included Victor Keating and Stanley McCarty.

Miss Winnifred Elliott, with Mrs. Rae Baker as accompanist, directed both choirs.

Under the direction of Miss Nancy Ferguson, the pupils performed a dance number, "Greetings from China," while Jean Kostenuk and Helen Stenseth were featured dancers during the "Fiesta" number.

Members of the C.J.H.S. Drama Club presented a one-act play, "The Ghost in the Green Gown." The play was directed by Miss Olive Heritage. Cynthia Ross, Alma Morris, Sylvia Stone, Rita Price, Marguerite Lloyd Patricia Whan took part.

The proceeds of the concert amounted to approximately $200.

Brother, That's A Lot Of Trout!

C. C. Shepherd of Opportunity, Wash., gives loving caress to the record rainbow trout he caught on opening day of season at Lake Pend Oreille, Idaho. The fish weighed 36 pounds, eclipsing the former record by three and one-half pounds. It was planned to ship the trout to President Truman but Shepherd had the misfortune to lose it when the fish slipped off a gaff into the water while a photo was being taken.

Idaho Trout Said World Record Small Fry Beside B.C. Monster

The Americans can't get away with claiming the largest Kamloops trout in the world.

A report from Sandpoint, Idaho, last week claiming the world's record Rainbow trout, a 36-pounder hauled out of Lake Pend Oreille, is little larger than a minnow compared to the largest Kamloops Rainbow caught in British Columbia.

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the provincial museum here, reported today the largest Kamloops trout on record is a 56½-pounder caught in Jewel Lake in the Similkameen district. Dr. Carl did not have on hand exact details about the catch, but it was reported to him by Dr. W. A. Clement of the University of British Columbia zoology department, he said.

Digging up other records, Dr. Carl showed that a 36-pound Kamloops might be the "world's biggest" trout in the U.S. but not in British Columbia.

FIFTY POUNDERS

Francis C. Whitehouse in a book he published in Vancouver in 1946 reported that 30 to 40 pound Kamloops trout had been taken at the hatchery at Gerrard and the record there was more than 50 pounds. Mr. Whitehouse reported the largest Kamloops caught on rod and line to his knowledge was hauled out of Premier Lake in the Kootenays. It tipped the scales at 53 pounds.

An earlier authoritative work, entitled "The Trout and Other Game Fishes of British Columbia," written by J. R. Dymond of the department of biology, University of Toronto, and published by the Federal Fisheries Department, recorded the largest Kamloops trout on record was 35 pounds eight ounces. It was also taken from Premier Lake, but this book was published 15 years ago.

Mr. Whitehouse in his book, "Sport Fishes of Western Canada and Some Others," said the 53-pound monster from Premier Lake could not be considered as produced under natural conditions for the lake had been stocked with Kamloops trout.

If a lake is properly stocked it is unusual to take a fish of such gigantic size, Dr. Carl reported. With a proper balance of fish for the available food in a lake all the fish tend to grow at approximately the same size.

If a lake contains a few large fish it is usually a sign that the lake has been over-fished or the schools are dying out.

As the fish become fewer in number more and more food is available for them and they become large and larger. Toward the end the few survivors may turn cannibalistic and consume the lesser fish.

Such over-size fish are usually extremely wary of fishermen, having survived their earlier life only by learning to avoid lures.

The Idaho trout was caught by C. L. Shepherd of Opportunity, Wash., and was credited by the Chamber of Commerce with breaking the previous record set last year was a 32½-pound trout caught by Lawrence Hamilton of Reardan, Wash.

The new so-called record trout was said to measure 37 inches long and was landed after a 45-minute struggle just before night fall.

Funeral Services For Sooke Resident

SOOKE—Rev. Samuel Lundie conducted funeral services for Alexander Campbell, well-known Sooke resident, in Knox Presbyterian Church, here, Wednesday.

Among relatives and old friends attending the service were R. H. Pooley; C. A. Helgesen, William Welsh, Mrs. J. P. Nutty and members of the Ladies' Aid Society.

Known throughout the district for his interest in schoolchildren and especially those pursuing musical studies, Mr. Campbell in his travels made a point of seeing the best organs on this continent, in Jerusalem and New Zealand. He was a skilled shipwright, having learned his trade on the Clyde. He spent several years in the Klondike.

Mrs. Joseph Yost played the organ. Interment was in Muir private cemetery. Pallbearers were six nephews: Leslie Clark, Stanley Clark, Edward Clark, Hugh Campbell, John Campbell and Joseph Allan.

Privateer Produced $38,200 Last Month

Mill production at Privateer Mine for April, was $38,200. Recently the situation in respect of mine labor has somewhat improved with a number of good miners being added to the crew the president, D. S. Tait, reports. The No. 3 vein on the 1,300 level continues to develop good ore. The drift there now shows a length of 48 feet with an average value of 2.48 ozs. gold, over an average width of 1.0 feet with both faces of the drift in good ore, Mr. Tait said.

An important development of the past week has been the cutting of the No. 1 Prident vein on the 500 level of the Prident mine section. At the last report the vein had been drifted upon for a length of 31 feet with an average value of 1.35 ozs. gold over an average width of 0.70 ft.

Launch Appeal For Boy Scouts

With 8,000 British Columbia sons now wearing the Boy Scout uniform, and hundreds more anxious to join this character-building movement, the provincial council of the Boy Scouts Association has launched a public appeal for donations to carry on and expand the administrative work at provincial headquarters. The province-wide appeal is for a minimum of $30,000 and "no contribution is too great or too small."

This year, with public financial assistance, the association aims to increase the effectiveness of the existing units of Cubbing, Scouting and Rovering in British Columbia and the Yukon; to increase the number of organized Scout districts; and to expand the influence of the movement so that many more boys desiring to become Cubs and Scouts may have their dreams fulfilled.

Hon. W. C. Woodward, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, is honorary chairman of the campaign committee. R. D. Baker, president of Standard Oil Company of British Columbia, is general chairman.

1-Man Party Fears He May Be Elected

VANCOUVER (CP) — The sphere of operations of Vancouver's one-man New Democracy party is to be shifted shortly to Halifax.

W. R. Smith, party leader, organizer and perennial candidate in elections of all kinds here for the past few years, has announced his intention of contesting the by-election in Halifax in July.

"The Democratic Party is the only answer to the economic crisis that is arising in Canada," he said. "I am out to rout MacKenzie King."

Mr. Smith, a native son of Halifax who came west in 1910 to become a building contractor, said he would take all his party headquarters paraphernalia in his car, which had been overhauled to make the trip back to the Maritimes.

"The only thing I fear," he said confidently, "is that I will be elected in Halifax and have to stay there."

Victoria West Parent-Teacher Association will have a delegation of five appear before Monday's City Council meeting to strongly urge that work be started immediately on the improvement of the play lot in Victoria West. Parents complain that the blackberry canes cause the children's clothes to be torn and dirtied when they play on the lot; Mrs. H. Holroyd stated.

Gives Talk On German Surrender

John Rockingham, a brigadier with the Canadian army overseas, Thursday gave an account of his activities in Europe and details of the surrender of the German armies on V-E Day two years ago, in an address before the Optimist Club at the Empress Hotel Thursday.

The speaker was introduced by Dick Farrow and thanked on the conclusion of his talk by Tom Watson.

Hugh C. Perram reported on "Optimist Theatre Night" to be held May 21 at the Victoria Little Theatre, where "Pygmalion" will be presented under the sponsorship of the club.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Stewart Forbes of Nelson, B.C., announce the engagement of their only daughter, Margaret Louise, to Charles Norman, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Willis of Victoria, B.C. The wedding will take place on May 23, at St. Andrew's-Wesley, Vancouver, B.C.

Social Situation

The Situation: A wife plans to have guests to dinner. Wrong Way: She invites the guests without asking her husband's opinion, chooses the menu without consulting him, decides after-dinner entertainment, etc. Right Way: If she wishes her husband to enjoy the evening and to be as good a host as possible, she consults him beforehand about everything except minor details. He then has a chance to make suggestions.

Linens And Money At Y.M.C.A. Tea

Mrs. J. O. Cameron, right, was a special guest. Pictured with her is Mrs. E. G. Rowbottom, who presided at the tea table and Mrs. Walter Walker, president of the auxiliary.

A sum of $205.48 was realized with an additional 65 pieces of linen—towels, pillow slips and sheets—at the annual linen shower and tea arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A. in the members' lounge at the "Y" Thursday afternoon.

Baskets of white and purple lilac, tulips, Spanish broom and copper beech placed at the fire place and in various spots around the spacious room made a perfect setting for the bright spring ensembles worn by the many guests.

Afternoon tea was served from a long table placed in the centre of the room, covered with an ecru lace cloth, centred with a low silver vase filled with carnations in three shades of pink, and tiny silver vases of lily of the valley.

Presiding at the silver services with Mrs. E. G. Rowbottom were Mrs. J. V. Johnson, Mrs. Arnold Ramer and Mrs. Frank Paulding.

Tea arrangements were convened by Mrs. James Dickson, assisted by Mrs. Fred Fisher, Mrs. E. T. Kenney, Mrs. S. J. D. Clark, Mrs. B. Carruthers, Mrs. J. Barraclough, Mrs. Arthur Dixon and Mrs. G. M. Duncan.

The president, Mrs. Walter Walker, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Wells, convener for the afternoon, welcomed guests. Mrs. R. Parfitt and Mrs. George Brown were in charge of money donations, with Mrs. A. Johnston and Mrs. C. A. Gibson at the linen table. Floral displays were arranged by Mrs. D. McArdie and her committee.

Musical program, in charge of Mrs. R. McCaw featured selections by the McGill Trio, Joan Milloy at the piano; songs by four-year-old Sharon Williams; piano solos, Irene Carlson, and piano duets by Vivian and Muriel Timbell.

Women Who Overeat Maladjusted Dr. Says

BUUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—

Women who eat themselves into obesity because of emotions, unhappiness or fear of men and marriage can be helped by psychology, but not by being ordered to diet, the New York State Medical Society was told today.

Such women have an abnormal psychological craving for food, said Dr. Henry B. Richardson of the New York hospital and the Cornell University medical college. They can best be helped by trying to make them realize what their underlying emotional or nervous troubles are.

The over-eating may begin in childhood, as a method of compensation against the feeling of being deprived of parents' love, Dr. Richardson said. Later, the fatness acts as a disease, causing suffering and interfering with the woman's adjustments to life. It serves also as a psychological gain for her, something to substitute, and "sometimes this gain is obvious, as when obesity is used as a protection against men and marriage."

Whatever the emotional upset or anxiety behind the food craving, the woman becomes involved in two vicious cycles, he continued.

With greater weight, physical activity becomes less, and this makes for still greater weight. But dieting encounters a psychological cycle of a feeling of deprivation, resentment, then guilt and depression, which induces the food craving.

Quadra—The annual general meeting of Quadra P.T.A. will be held in the school auditorium Tuesday at 8. Annual reports will be heard and election of officers held. Dr. Henrietta Anderson will lead a discussion on the topic, "If there is delinquency who is responsible?"

Woman Temporary Mayor Of Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—

Mrs. Louise Schroeder, 60-year-old Social Democrat, Thursday was chosen temporary Lord Mayor of Berlin by the city council to solve Berlin's "no-mayor" crisis.

The first woman Lord Mayor in Berlin's history, she will replace Dr. Otto Ostrowski, who resigned recently after his own Social Democratic party had given him a vote of no confidence on charges he had entered into a "working agreement" with its political opponent, the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity Party.

Mrs. Schroeder was a Reichstag member from 1919 until 1933 and formerly a professor of social politics at Berlin University.

The traditionally beautiful ceremony, performed by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, featured a combination of pastel spring gowns, the dignity of naval uniforms, and the colorful setting of tulips, narcissi, lilac and bridal wreath.

The former Beverly Alleen Pipes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pipes, 1752 Armstrong Avenue, was given in marriage to the groom, a P.O. Writer, R.C.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steed, Essex, Ont., by her father.

Following the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Steed will reside in Winnipeg, Man. The bride chose for traveling, a check suit of pale grey with matching hat, rose wool topcoat and black accessories.

Miss Pamela Newton sang "Beloved It Is Morn," and E. Holloway presided at the organ.

Harvey Weber proposed the bridal toast at a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Pipes assisted in welcoming guests. Tall white candles flanked the three-tier cake centering the bride's table.

London Demands More Floggings To Combat Crime

LONDON (Reuter) — Home Secretary Ede came under fire in House of Commons Thursday during discussion of security measures to combat the London crime wave of recent months.

One M.P. asked for more floggings. Another asked for an end to the virtual blackout of London streets which, he said, is giving criminals a good avenue of escape, and another urged stricter control over possession of illicit firearms.

Ede gave statistics showing that of 25 robberies in London in the first four months of this year, 14 persons involved in five of them had been arrested.

This, he said, was not unsatisfactory progress "having regard to the number of desperate men about at this particular time."

Flogging, Ede declared, had long been one of the most controversial matters in his department and this year floggings had been imposed in 10 cases of robbery with violence.

Sale Of Japanese Properties In B.C. Explained To M.P.'s

OTTAWA (CP) — Frank G. Shears, director of the Vancouver office of the Custodian of Enemy Property, explained to the Commons public accounts committee Thursday how property of Japanese, evacuated from defence areas of British Columbia, was sold and contended his office had done its utmost to protect assets of Japanese forced to move out.

"I know it has been charged there was waste in disposing of these properties," he said, "but I wish to say we were confronted with a difficult situation for which we had no precedent and we followed the best methods we could devise."

He denied any Japanese property had been "sold for a song."

He agreed there had been considerable theft of Japanese chattels before the custodian could take over properties and storage places had been broken into and thefts and vandalism had resulted after goods had come into his possession.

"We had chattels stored in 7,000 different places and would have required 7,000 watchmen to protect them."

Ontario Youth Found Shot Dead

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — Shot through the head, the body of an unidentified youth was found Wednesday night a mile west of nearby Arden. Police said they believed the youth had been dead since Sunday.

Near the body lay a .22 calibre rifle, identified as one taken from the Arden store operated by C. W. Thornton, during a break-in April 27.

Surrounding the body were canned goods, cigarettes and chocolate bars, also identified as part of the robbery loot. A blood-stained sleeping bag which lay beside the body also belonged to Thornton.

Clad in an army uniform, with pockets emptied and identification disc removed, the youth appeared to have been between 19 and 23 years of age.

Residents said the theory was that two persons took part in the Arden robbery.

John Bull Okays $30,000 'No Man's Land'

Screen stars Franchot Tone and Lucille Ball demonstrate the bedroom scene from "My Awful Wife" after revamping to please British censors, at $30,000 cost for re-takes. In film's U.S. version, the twin beds were close together. Thirty-year-old British regulation forbids married couples being filmed in bed except in twin beds at least a foot apart.

Newfoundland Sentiment Favors Joining Canada As 10th Province

LONDON (Reuter) — Newfoundland, British island guardian of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, needs the backing of a large country, either Britain or Canada — and sentiment is growing there in favor of federation with Canada.

Gordon F. Bradley, leader of a seven-man Newfoundland delegation which has just concluded a series of talks with British government officials on financial aspects of Newfoundland's future, said in an interview today that in his personal view if the Ottawa government is prepared to give terms acceptable to Newfoundland, then they will be accepted by the people and the Ancient Colony will become the 10th province of the Dominion.

After reporting next week to the national convention in St. John's, of which he is chairman, on the results of the London talks — results which Bradley would not discuss until they are laid before the convention — he will head a new delegation to Ottawa, probably by mid-June.

EXPLORE FUTURE

There the Newfoundlanders will lay their financial problems before the Canadian government and delve deeply into the future constitutional position of Newfoundland, which gave up responsible government in 1934, following an economic crisis, and for the last 13 years has been governed by a commission made up of three Britons, three Newfoundlanders and a British governor.

The interview left the impression that events are developing

Canada Urged To Admit Finns

OTTAWA (CP) — The Senate immigration committee heard a request Thursday that government, by order-in-council, cancel the status of Finns as enemy aliens.

Without arguing the merits of Finland's action in joining Germany in an effort to restore territory seized by Russia, Sven Stadius of Toronto, spokesman for the Toronto Finnish Advancement Association, urged that Canada allow in primary workers such as miners, lumbermen and domestics whose Canadian relatives would guarantee them both work-and backing. But, as enemy aliens, all Finns now were barred.

Stadius estimated that only small numbers would come here anyway, particularly in view of the Finnish government's steps to prevent workers leaving the war-devastated country.

2 Killed, 17 Hurt

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Two persons were killed and 17 injured when a Greyhound bus en route from Salt Lake City to San Francisco collided with an auto on U.S. highway 40, east of here today.

The dead:

The driver of the auto, tentatively identified as H. L. Wolfson, Colfax, Calif.

An unidentified middle-aged woman, a bus passenger.

Hatfield Shoots McCoy

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., (AP) — The Mingo County grand jury has returned a murder indictment against Allen Hatfield, former police chief, in the fatal shooting of Hubert McCoy, 28, last Feb. 17. Both were descendants of the families which figured in the bloody Hatfield-McCoy feud in the southern West Virginia and eastern Kentucky mountain country during the 1880's.

swiftly in Newfoundland's post-war movement towards finding her permanent position in the British Commonwealth orbit. Any suggestion that she may approach the United States with a view to joining the republic seems to have been ruled out.

St. John's figures are being compiled for the Ottawa delegation. The financial question is paramount. Bradley said federation would mean Newfoundland's ending its custom tariff, which produces $18,000,000, and its income tax of $9,000,000, an annual revenue loss of $27,000,000, leaving at present rates between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000. But present revenue could not be expected to continue.

SUBSIDY PLAN

Boiled down, taxes that would be left, and could not be increased because the people could not carry further burdens, would yield not more than three or four millions. A provisional subsidy might amount to $5,000,000, leaving a balance to be found somewhere towards the $13,000,000 a year estimated as the need to finance Newfoundland as a Canadian province.

It would certainly cost Canada some money, but Canada would get the great bulk of Newfoundland's trade when tariff walls disappeared along the St. Lawrence, and in addition Canada would control the island from a military standpoint.

Advantages of federation to Newfoundlanders would be a freeing of trade and an ending of isolation.

Arrests Soon After Garageman Robbed

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ten minutes after Leland G. Mounce, garageman, had been attacked and robbed of $100, three men were arrested by city police Thursday.

Arrested were Leonard Sparks, 23; Eric Jones and George McDonald, 21. Police are seeking a fourth man.

Mounce reported four men entered the garage, two of them armed with short automatics. They compelled him to open the cash register, from which they took the loot in bills, and the safe, he said. The safe was empty.

He was then ordered to lie on the floor. One of the men took Mounce's glasses off, tied a wiggling rag over his eyes, and slugged him with the butt of a gun, the victim said.

Police reported two loaded revolvers were found in possession of Sparks and McDonald.

Mayhew Predicts Sugar Increase

OTTAWA (CP) — R. W. Mayhew, Parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, said in the Commons Wednesday that, given at least average climatic conditions, sugar beet production in Canada this year was expected to exceed that of last year.

Replying to questions asked previously by John Blackmore, S.C., Lethbridge, Alta., he reported that 1946 production was 30 per cent greater than the average for 1935-39 and said this was a greater increase than that of any other sugar beet-producing country.

He told Mr. Blackmore the government had been advised by the Canada and Dominion Sugar companies that up to May 5 they had signed contracts for 26,029 acres of sugar beets.

Search Mountain Trails For Killer

GRANTS PASS, Ore. (AP) — Mountain trails were scoured today for a killer whose victim lay on his wilderness bed firing pistol shots in a vain appeal for aid before he died.

State Police Sgt. C. R. Borgman broadcast a description of Jack Mahoney, 65-year-old prospector, wanted for questioning.

Coroner Virgil Hull said Robert Fox, 40, lived several hours after a .30-30 calibre slug ripped through his abdomen some time Tuesday. The coroner said Fox left a three-word note which said, "Mahoney shot me."

City Should Assume Charge Of Recreation

John Pearson, executive member of the Parks and Recreation Association of Canada, spoke at the City Hall Wednesday to representatives of the City Council, playgrounds, community centres and parent-teachers. Mr. Pearson stressed the need all across Canada of professional security for workers in the recreational field.

The leisure time picture must keep in mind all age groups, all year round and all types of interest. He gave a composite picture across the Dominion province by province, and showed that B.C. stands well in accomplishment to date. The city councils, he said, must assume the charge for recreation both in finance and planning, while provincial aid is also necessary.

This was Mr. Pearson's final meeting with such groups, ending an eight-week itinerary from Halifax to Victoria.

Planners Worry About Cliff Erosion

Concern over the extent of erosion seen on the cliffs at the waterfront in Beacon Hill Park was expressed by members of the Town-Planning Commission after they had completed a tour of the waterfront Wednesday evening.

The commission members inspected the water front from Foul Bay to the breakwater and made extensive notes on conditions found. M. K. Crockett, secretary, will make a report on the tour to the next meeting of the commission, and it is anticipated that recommendations will be made later to the City Council.

More Worries For George I. Warren

The newsreel, being featured at one of the local theatres, is showing pictures of girls picking flowers in front of the Parliament Buildings. At the beginning of the week the commentary said only that the picture was taken on Vancouver Island.

Now, because of a letter sent to the producers by George I. Warren, publicity commissioner for Victoria and island, the newsreel mentions the name of Victoria.

But Mr. Warren now has other worries. During April a series of advertisements were appearing in eastern American newspapers telling people to travel west, through Canada, and stay at the Empress Hotel in Vancouver. The advertisement went so far as to carry a picture of Victoria's Empress Hotel but the name of this city was not mentioned.

Mr. Warren is pleased, however, that some easterners have realized the error. He has already received three letters, one from New York, one from Washington, and one local, telling him of this error.

VICTORIA S.E.C.A.

At the monthly meeting of the executive and committee of the Victoria S.P.C.A., Friday, Capt. James Barr in the chair, the inspector's report for April showed: 125 inspections made; 66 investigations; 26 interviews; 8 warnings; 9 animals taken to veterinary after accidents; 36 animals humanely destroyed; 942 miles covered.

During the recent celebration of Animal Week, many members and supporters had contributed interesting pictures of animals for display. The essay competition for children proved a success. Posters were delivered to the schools and the humane film "Out of the Heart" had been shown to 30 elementary schools.

Suggest Waste Oil Be Used On Streets

Efforts will be made by the fire wardens to ascertain from the public works committee if waste fuel oil from gasoline service stations could not be used on street work, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman, said following a meeting Thursday.

He said that Fire Chief Joseph Raymond had stated in many instances gasoline stations are storing the used oil contrary to fire regulations because they had no means of disposal, and it was felt if the oil could be used on the streets it would solve two problems.

It will be recommended to Monday's city council meeting that the Sidney Volunteer Fire Department be given the loan of a 500-gallon per minute pumper for an indefinite period. The volunteer unit will be expected to maintain the machine, which will be subject to inspection from the city fire department, Ald. Diggon said.

The fire wardens are also recommending that tenders be called for the roofing of the fire hall, for painting the exterior front, for fire alarm boxes, for clothing and other supplies for the year.

Mayor Endorses Cancer Campaign

Mayor Percy George has endorsed the "Conquer Cancer" campaign for 1947 and authorized a canvass to be taken among City Hall employees for the fund.

In his letter to the employees, Mayor George stressed, "Cancer is a condition affecting almost every family in the community. The funds collected through this campaign are to be used to encourage earlier diagnosis and to provide improved treatment facilities for those who are affected."

They beg for them...

MY TURF adviser today gives you his choice for the Preakness tomorrow. In a couple of words, it's Jet Pilot or Faultless. "It's got to be the Pilot if it comes up mud," he warns. "But if the track is fast and dry, Faultless is the one." He then explained that Jet Pilot won last Saturday's Kentucky Derby in the mud while Faultless, who finished third, would perform even better on a dry track. He didn't say anything about Phalanx and after all, Phalanx only finished second by a close head in the derby. That clears the way for our own choice: Jet Pilot, wet or dry. The Preakness is 1-16 of a mile shorter than the derby and the Pilot has shown he can stay with either Faultless or Phalanx.

Ace relief pitcher Ken Trinkle won his third straight game with the help of rookie Bobby Thomson as New York Giants came up with three runs in the eighth inning to subdue Cincinnati at the Polo Grounds 7 to 4.

East-West Tennis Matches Scheduled Here July 14-19

Tennis followers of the city will be interested in the announcement today from Carl Brand, that the first east-west four-man team matches will be played at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club this year during the week of July 14 to 19.

Stated to be an annual event, the east-west matches will pit the four top players from eastern Canada against the top four of western Canada in five-set singles and three-set doubles matches, with the honor of representing Canada in the Davis Cup matches going to the four winners.

The meet will alternate between eastern and western Canada each year and will be played the week preceding the Canadian championships, and two weeks prior to the Davis Cup matches.

A cup has been donated by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association for the event, and it is hoped that a similar event for women will be added to the program in future years.

In an effort to improve the calibre of tennis in the Dominion, Vancouver officials have acquired the services of a ranking professional and he will tutor the outstanding players of western Canada preceding the match. The western team will be chosen by a special selection committee.

It has also been suggested that Valerie Scott, former British Wightman Cup star, and at present a visitor in the city, play an exhibition doubles match with three top male performers at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club this month with the proceeds going to the Lord Mayor's Fund.

McArthur Twirls No-Hit Game In High School Ball League Standings

Murray McArthur, ace pitcher of the league-leading Mount View nine, realized the ambition of every hurler when he hurled a no-hit, no-run game against Victoria High School Blacks in an Interhigh League contest yesterday. Game marked the second no-hitter in league play as Bernie Anderson accomplished the feat on May 1 against Esquimalt. McArthur's teammates played errorless ball behind his fine effort and took advantage of every opportunity to whitewash the Blacks, 12 to 0.

Only two runners got as far as second base, although McArthur walked six and hit one batsman. He took 10 on strikes.

Al Turcotte started on the mound for Blacks and was nicked for a pair of runs in the first and three in the third to give winners a 5 to 0 start, two of which were unearned. John Moffatt took over in the fifth and after retiring the first two on strikes, was nicked for four straight walks and a pair of consecutive singles which were good for five runs.

Short score follows:

Victoria Blacks	3	0	1.000
Oak Bay	1	1	.500
Victoria Blacks	1	1	.500

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

OUR SUMMERS ARE NOT REALLY HOT!
Most of us think it's pretty hot when thermometers soar above 90 degrees around mid-July. Yet this is cool compared to the fierce heat of temperatures up around 2800 degrees required by modern industrial processes.
To control temperatures such as this and prevent heat losses, Johns-Manville, through years of research has developed a wide variety of scientific insulating materials. In fact, there's a J-M insulation made to solve every heat problem ranging from 400 degrees below zero to 2800 degrees above. Today, in every type of industrial service, these Johns-Manville Insulations not only speed up manufacturing but save thousands of tons of coal, or the equivalent in fuel oil, every year.
If you have an insulation problem in your plant, why not call in a Johns-Manville insulation specialist. Contact Canadian Johns-Manville, 1206 Homer Street, Vancouver.

Minimum Boost For B.C. Hairdressers Ordered By Board

Minimum wages of several thousand hairdressers in British Columbia have been raised $2.90 a week to $20 for experienced full-time employees, under an order of the Board of Industrial Relations which will become effective Monday.

The board has drafted a new classification for hairdressers, previously included in a group as personal service workers. Under the new set-up the order governs both male and female employees whereas the previous order governed only female hairdressers.

The minimum rate of pay for hairdressers had been previously boosted last July 1 to $17.10 per week for full-time, experienced employees from $14.25.

Experienced part-time employees, working less than 40 hours a week, will have their hourly minimum rate boosted from 45 cents to 50 cents, while inexperienced full-time employees will have a minimum pay rate of $15 per week for the first three months and $17.50 per week for the second three months.

Previously rates of minimum pay for inexperienced employees had been governed by their age but this provision has been abolished. Inexperienced part-time employees will have a minimum pay rate of 37½ cents per hour for the first three months and 44 cents an hour for the second three months.

The weekly work week remains the same at 44 hours. While the raising of a minimum wage rate will bring wage increases to some of the hairdressers of the province, many establishments have been paying in excess of the revised minimum because of the shortage of hairdressers.

Police Seek Man Parading In Nude

City police today were put on the alert to try and find a man who has been walking about a city street in the nude in the early morning hours.

Early this morning the police station received a telephone call from a citizen that a man was walking around without any clothes on at 5:30 in front of the cabins on Pembroke Street, near Douglas Street "and he has been doing the same thing for about two weeks every morning," the informant said.

At the meeting of the Laundry Workers' Union it was decided that the union endorse the consumers' buyers strike to be held next week.

Brilliant Wit Of Oscar Wilde In Play Tonight

The brilliant wit of the ingenious Oscar Wilde will come into play tonight at 8.15 and tomorrow at 2.30, when the Everyman Theatre plays under the auspices of the Solarium Junior League in the Victoria High School auditorium.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" will be presented in stylized version, reflected in the simple white furniture, punctiliousness of movement and staccato-like repartee. The brilliantly conceived plot is a masterpiece of balance and parallelism, and this symmetrical form is carried into the stage production by Sydney Risk.

Theatrical symbolism, rather than realism, is the medium used in the portrayal of this comedy of manners. This may be exemplified in the particularly striking instance of the green carnations worn by John Worthing and Albernou Moncreiff, a reference to the Wildian artificial refinement. Symbolism includes the theory that actors will convey to the audience a greater conception of atmosphere and more completely furnished surroundings than is merely suggested by the fewest possible props.

The plot itself is a delightfully improbable concoction of merriment, but the scintillating Wildian witticisms are enough in themselves to bring forth a play, light and debonair, brittle and beguiling as only Oscar Wilde could create them.

Saturday night the Everyman Theatre will give Elsie Park Gowan's Canadian play, "The Last Caveman." Tickets are available at the Solarium office, E 4821, or from members of the Solarium Junior League.

U.S. Navy Blimp Grounded--A Sag In The Bag

Irreparably damaged when its reconditioned bag rubbed the framework of the hangar into which it was being moved at Moffett Field, California, the U.S. navy blimp K107 came down on the ground. A puncture occurred near ground, no casualties resulting except loss of helium in the bag. Officers at the field said the bag was an old one and not worth repairing. The engines and equipment have been salvaged.

Victoria's Biggest Family Observing Mother's Day

Mothers' Day on Sunday will have a special significance for Mrs. P. H. Buxton, 563 Head Street. She is the mother of 14 children and the grandmother of 16 grandchildren.

Although many members of the family are now living in other parts of the Dominion, those who are still residing in Victoria, will pay their respects to their mother, who claims to have brought up the largest family in Victoria.

The eldest member is 36 years, while the youngest is a daughter of 15 years. Three children are still going to school. The remaining members are married or working here or in other cities in Canada.

Mrs. Buxton had five sons serving in the army during the war and one in the air force. Three of her sons are still in the army, while one is with the Provincial Police and another serving with the Esquimalt police force. Four of her daughters are married.

Mrs. Buxton said today she did not expect to see them again united at the same time as some were working as far east as Montreal. "They all come to see me at different times," she said, "but I doubt if they will ever be able to be in Victoria all at the same time."

The children were all born in Victoria, according to Mrs. Buxton, who is proud of her family and the record of her sons in the Army during the war.

Saanich Schools' Musical Festival Presents Concert

The public was given an opportunity to see just what training is given to children in the schools at the first-night concert of the second annual Saanich Schools' Musical Festival held Thursday night in the new auditorium of Cloverdale School. Choral groups and rhythm bands, representative of all schools and groups which participated in the morning and afternoon sessions of the festival, performed at the evening concert.

Schools represented were Tillicum, Craigflower, Cedar Hill, Gordon Head and Mount Douglas. The Esquimalt Schools' Band was also in attendance and offered several selections.

This musical festival is intended to give the children confidence by permitting them to sing before a large audience.

Morning and afternoon sessions permit the pupils of one school to hear those of another on a similar grade level. Each group sings the same song so that differences in style are easily recognized by the children themselves. Also each group sings a song of their own choice.

While this festival is non-competitive, these sessions are adjudicated and helpful criticism is given.

The concert last night was opened by Trustee Arnold Edmonds.

Tonight, again at Cloverdale School the festival will conclude. Craigflower, Tolmie, Cloverdale, McKenzie Avenue and Mount Douglas schools will perform. Also, the Victoria Junior Symphony Orchestra, under Melvin Knudsen, will perform.

This evening's concert will be opened at 8 by Trustee Mrs. H. A. Beckwith.

The festival has been arranged by H. J. Bigsby, music supervisor for the outlying school areas. Frank Tupman and George Bower are acting as adjudicators.

Transit Agreement Ready By May 15; Vote To Be June 19

Draft agreement for the unified transportation franchise for Greater Victoria will be ready by May 15, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria transportation committee, said today following a meeting.

He said that because of inability of some municipalities to get the school building by-law prepared before June 19, the committee will recommend that this date be set for the transportation by-law also, postponing the original date by one week.

This morning the committee went over the terms of the proposed franchise agreement and then referred it back to the solicitors for final drafting. The committee will meet again May 15 to give final ratification to the terms, before making an official submission to the municipal councils.

Ald. Diggon also stated that the by-law is being drafted in such a way that defeat of it by the ratepayers of one or more of the outlying municipalities, will not preclude those who approve it from having a new transportation system and franchise.

He expressed hope that the voters in all four municipalities will approve the by-law, but every eventuality is being taken care of in the new draft agreement.

600,000 MIGRATORY WORKERS Follow U.S. Crops

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Not all migratory farm laborers fit the tragic pattern of the fictional Joad family in John Steinbeck's novel, "The Grapes of Wrath."

Even in prosperous times, according to the U.S. Census Bureau, approximately 600,000 persons travel about the country to meet the seasonal labor demands of farmers. They may stay in one locality anywhere from a day to several months. Some travel by freight train, others in trucks and autos. Though sometimes victimized, they may by hard work and a judicious planning of routes, make enough money in a long summer to last all year.

Only a small fraction of the 11,000,000 Americans regularly employed in agriculture, the migrants fill a peculiar need, and their status is being improved.

Potato diggers can start as early as March 21 on southern farms, following the ripening crop northward to Maine's famed Aroostook County where the last harvest commences as late as September 1. To vary this occupation, other vegetables and fruits along the potato route offer continuous employment in the warm months.

Cotton, the big southern crop, is picked from July 1, in southern Texas through mid-December in northern Arkansas and Tennessee.

Spring wheat, the big migratory crop that draws dirt farmers and college students to the northern central states, is harvested chiefly in July and August. An army of migrants follow it annually across the great plains region.

In times of economic depression the ranks of casual farm laborers are swelled. Then wages drop and there is not enough work, even under sub-standard conditions, to go around. During the war, with workers scarce, thousands were brought into the U.S. from Mexico and the Caribbean to meet seasonal harvest needs.

B.C. Delegate To Youth Conference

The second world conference of Christian Youth will convene in Oslo, Norway, this summer, under the auspices of the World Council of Churches. It is expected that 1,200 delegates from every nation in Christendom will attend, and the problems relating to world conditions will be carefully discussed in the light of Christian principles. "This is a matter of tremendous importance to youth in particular, and to the world in general. It is unfortunate that the number of delegates attending could not be greater, especially, when it is a known fact that the World Council of Democratic Youth is opening a conference in Prague, at the same time, and expects to have 40,000 delegates present," says a representative of the A.Y.P.A. in Victoria.

This conference at Oslo is to be a follow-up of the first conference held in Amsterdam at which time Germany had already begun its aggression.

Among the Canadian delegates will be British Columbia's own Hazel Greenwood, a Fort Langley girl, who will represent the Anglican Young People's Association of the province. Miss Greenwood expects to graduate this spring from the University of B.C., majoring in languages, government, and history, and with an eye to the diplomatic service for her life work.

Youth Charged With Slaying Half-Brother

AUBURN, Me. (AP)—An 18-year-old boy, accused of killing his older half brother with a lead pipe after an argument over a girl, was held today on a charge of murder. Sheriff Louis A. Gendron said Edward Chadbourne had signed a confession that he had slain Bertrand L. Leclair, 35, and had dumped his body, stuffed into an empty oil drum, into the Androscoggin River. Police, led to the stream by Chadbourne, found the drum floating beneath a bridge, 10 miles north of here, Thursday night.

Judge Awards $1,500 Damages

The sum of $1,500 damages was awarded Mrs. Hyacinth M. Melish, operator of commercial dog kennels at Royal Oak, as a result of an action for libel against James Barr, president, and two inspectors of the Victoria Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, in an 11-page judgment handed down Thursday, by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court here.

Action was based on Mrs. Melish's claim for damages for alleged libel in a communication sent by Mr. Barr to the Saanich Council regarding the condition of the kennels in which she kept dogs.

In his judgment, Mr. Justice Macfarlane said the communication in question enclosed a report from the two inspectors, John L. Weeks and Donald Harner, and quoted the report as stating the kennels were in a "disgraceful condition." He said "the plaintiff was not pleased with the attitude of one of the inspectors of

Amazing Soapless VEL cleans better, washes faster

VEL gives water amazing new cleaning power—makes it penetrate, lift out dirt, cut grease fast!

VEL dissolves instantly, completely, even when you add cool, hard water.

One big advantage is that VEL's light, foamy suds disappear quickly... the water stays clear. You see what you wash. No heavy clinging suds.

No gummy soap film to cloud glasses, nylons, silks, etc.

VEL contains no harsh, soapy alkalis, works well without hot water, so hands don't get red and sore.

You need very little VEL for most jobs. One or two tablespoonsful is enough to make glasses sparkle, cut grease from dishes. No need to add more when suds disappear for VEL cleans without suds.

Bridge Ready Soon Over French Creek

Latest project in the provincial works department program of replacing temporary wooden Island Highway bridges with permanent steel or concrete structures is the French Creek bridge, a 134-foot steel bow-string arch bridge with a concrete deck which will be ready to carry traffic about June 1. It is near Nanaimo.

Deck on the new bridge will be poured Monday and Tuesday of next week and it will take three weeks to set. As soon as the concrete is ready the bridge will be opened for traffic. This bridge is being erected by the Western Bridge and Steel Fabricators of Vancouver. It is identical to the Haslam Creek bridge, having a 24-foot roadway. The sub-structure was built by the department's own crews. Immediately below the old wooden structure the new bridge will, straight out a curve in highway which is being rebuilt in that section. Provincial works department engineers said the old structure will be immediately dismantled, probably with dynamite. With the completion of the French Creek bridge the Nanaimo diversion will be ready for use although it may be some time before the final highway surface is put on. In the meantime a temporary surface will be laid down to accommodate the heavy traffic until the equipment is available for the laying of the permanent surface.

Roy Rogers In Musical Western

By coincidence, the anniversary of the purchase of the Oklahoma land strip and the opening of that area to settlers was celebrated almost simultaneously in Oklahoma and on a sound stage of the Republic Studios in Hollywood.

Republic's "Man from Oklahoma," musical Western starring Roy Rogers, now at the Rio Theatre, is the hilarious story of two pioneer Oklahoma families taking part in the celebration of the land rush anniversary—and the sequence was filmed at almost the same time the real anniversary was an event of the state.

Learned Lyrics In Seven Languages

Although she neither speaks nor understands any foreign language, Deanna Durbin can sing perfectly in almost any language. In fact, during her 10 year career on the screen, the star has warbled songs in seven different languages.

Deanna's latest multi-lingual project involved her song presentations for her Universal-International comedy romance, "I'll Be Yours," now at the Plaza Theatre.

In "I'll Be Yours," in which she co-stars with Tom Drake and William Bendix, Deanna spent three times as many hours studying "It's Dream Time" as she did learning "Granada." The former is a new, popular tune with English lyrics. "Granada" is a spectacular classic which Deanna sings in Spanish.

YORK THEATRE

At the age of three, Bonita Granville made her stage debut in the vaudeville act of her father, Bernard Granville, former star of the Ziegfeld Follies. Five years later, vaudeville bookings took the act to Los Angeles, and shortly afterward the youngster made her first screen appearance as Ann Harding's daughter in "Westward Passage." Miss Granville is currently at the York Theatre in "Suspense," Monogram dramatic spectacle in which she is co-starred with Belita, Barry Sullivan, Albert Dekker and Eugene Pallette.

Tracy In African Adventure Story

The greatest adventure thriller of all time, "Stanley and Livingstone" returns today to the Dominion Theatre with a superb cast starring Spencer Tracy and including many of Hollywood's finest artists.

The Twentieth Century-Fox film, produced by Darryl F. Zanuck and directed by Henry King, thrillingly reconstructs the great adventure of the daring young reporter who penetrated the heart of Africa and scored the "discovery" of the century. In support of Tracy are Sir Cedric Hardwicke as Livingstone, Richard Greene and Nancy Kelly.

OAK BAY THEATRE

A star-studded cast offers a brilliant interpretation of Samuel Goldwyn's new dramatic production for RKO Radio release, "The Best Years of Our Lives." Develops in highly vivid form the emotional experiences encountered, each with its own crisis, by three men and the women they love. Top-billed in the picture now at the Oak Bay Theatre are Myrna Loy, Fredric March, Dana Andrews, Teresa Wright, Virginia Mayo, and Cathy O'Donnell, new Goldwyn discovery.

ATLAS THEATRE

Dennis Morgan, Warner Bros. star currently to be seen in that studio's technicolor musical film, "The Time, the Place, and the Girl," at the Atlas Theatre, is experimenting with trout on his new La Canada estate.

The actor has a series of seven pools, connected by small streams, from which he hopes within a year to be serving home-grown mountain trout at Sunday buffets.

Also starred in "The Time, the Place and the Girl," in addition to Morgan, are Jack Carson, Janis Paige and Martha Vickers.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The name of Joan Harrison as producer on R.K.O. Radio's new mystery drama, "Nocturne," now at the Capitol Theatre, is a guarantee that there will be plenty of suspense in this thrilling story of the murder of a Hollywood composer. Co-starred are George Raft in the role of a hard-boiled

Protests Sending

'Blue Babies' To U.S.

VANCOUVER (CP) — E. S. Winn, president of the Children's Hospital here, Thursday night took exception to the practice of sending children to United States hospitals for treatment, particularly "blue babies."

"It is time people of British Columbia knew there are surgeons and instruments in Vancouver capable of the most delicate and difficult operations," he said. "There are several surgeons in the city who can undertake blue baby operations."

ROYAL THEATRE

Producer Hal Wallis turns his talented hand to a type of screenfare different from his recent hits, "Casablanca," "Love Letters," and "Saratoga Trunk." His newest contribution to entertainment fare is a riotous comedy that is said to be as sophisticated and sparkling as champagne, and as tenderly romantic as a Valentine. The film is Paramount's "The Perfect Marriage," a frothy tale of the trials and tribulations of modern marriage, currently at the Royal Theatre, with Loretta Young and David Niven ideally wedded in starring roles.

PARENTS' LACK OF DIPLOMACY WORKS HARD ON CHILDREN'S FUTURE

One of the strange things about parents is that so few of them seem to think that it is worthwhile to use any diplomacy in dealing with their children. Probably not one father and mother in a thousand regard their youngsters as so dull and stupid that they do not know what it is all about, and so lacking in all sensitiveness that their feelings do not have to be considered, yet they treat them as if they were morons.

It is a common thing for a little child to be torn from his play and brought into the living room to be bawled by his elders. All of us have seen this horrifying spectacle, time and again. We have seen little Jimmy writhing in anguish while every particle of dignity and privacy were stripped from him and his every fault and blemish were discussed as freely as if he had been an animal instead of a human being.

Whatever one might privately think of the peculiarities of strangers, no one would dream of calling attention to them in their presence. No one would tell Colonel Jones on his size, or tell Mrs. Smith to her face that she had lost all of her good looks. But no one hesitates to express a fear that little Jimmy is going to be a runt like his grandfather or to say what a pity it is that Sally has inherited her Aunt Susan's nose. And when little Jimmy goes sulky or dumb under his persecutions, he gets a black mark for not being a little gentleman.

Parents' sense of humor peters out pretty thin when their own blunders and mistakes furnish the joke that sets a dinner table in a roar, but mama's and papa's best stories centre around something naive children have said or done. Maybe it is Jimmy asking father how a man conducts himself on his first date. Maybe it is mother telling the secret that Sally whispered to her in confidence. Awfully funny. Gets a big laugh. But it sends Sally from the table in tears, and Jimmy never asks father's advice again as long as he lives.

But where parents' lack of tact in rearing their children does its deadliest work is when father and mother harp continually on their boys' and girls' shortcomings, whether they be mental or physical. For its inevitable result is to give the child an inferiority complex that it never overcomes. Parents set their children's standards and if they are constantly reminded that they do not come up to what mom and pop expected of them, they lose hope and ambition and slump into being failures that their fathers and mothers have practically wished on them.

WAY TO SUCCESS

And the contrary of this is just as true. Many a mediocre boy and girl are developed into success by their belief in them, by their parents' encouragement, by their feeling that they couldn't let mom and dad down.

Many and many a girl is an old maid because her mother began selling her the idea that she was homely and unattractive before she was fairly out of the cradle. Mother was always bemoaning Sally's stringy hair, or her bad complexion, or that she was too tall or too short, until she made Sally so self-conscious that she stumbled over her own feet and never tried to improve her looks and was so dumb with men that they fled from her. For a girl, to be pretty, has to feel pretty and carry herself 40 per cent over her looks instead of 90 per cent below them. And many a man is a failure because his parents killed his belief in himself when he was a child.

As we think, so are we, and our parents shape our thinking. Pity that they do not often teach us to believe in ourselves. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
